WILMINGTON - TEWKSBURY GAME TOMORROW

Tomorrow, at the Town Memorial Park, will be played the game of the year, as far as the sports fans of Wilmington and Tewksbury are concerned. The annual game between these two high schools, always a keen source of rivalry, finds the two teams probably evenly matched. Rivalry has been increased in the past few years by the actions of local veteran's posts, with the William F. Tattersall Chapter of the Disabled American Veterans donating a cup to the winning team, and a cup to the outstanding player of the game, in the Wilmington team; and the Tewksbury Post of the American Legion presenting a cup to their choice of an outstanding player.

Historically, Tewksbury should have the better team tomorrow, for they have made better scores against teams that have beaten Wilmington decisively this year, but a big question mark has been introduced during the last few days, as the Wilmington boys, who a new team spirit have racked off a couple of impressive wins. Their win of 27 to 0 over North Andover on October 26th was followed by a 7 to 0 win over Phillips Andover JV's "A" team last Thursday, a team definitely rated in the "C" class, and not in the "D" class in which Wilmington plays.

The new playing spirit of the Wilmington boys will be up against a team that is rated as being "pretty good" defensively. Some of the players that Wilmington fans will watch closely are Irving Storms, halfback, who "stormed" North Andover, Fred Thorpe, a guard whose kicking is reported to be definitely improving and Sharp, an end whose passing is becoming quite impressive.

This will be the last time that some of the boys will face Tewksbury. Six of Wilmington's varsity squad are seniors and will be enjoying their last kicks with their old rival—Wetherbee, Kavanaugh, Leavitt, Fuller, Byam, and Tessicini.

The starting line-up is not yet complete, but Coach Connie O'Dougherty will probably start with Wetherbee re, Fuller or Pupa rt, Branscombe, rg, Leavitt or Barboza c, Byam lg, Tessicini lt, Dick Moore le, Kavanaugh qb, Nally or Storms rfb, Capt. Frank DePiano lhb, and Anderson fb.

Several other players will be heard from during the game, without a doubt, among them Robert Burns and James Reid, both up and coming ends, and Billy Rosa, fullback. Palmer, who has been playing tackle, may not be in the Tewksbury game, as he is still recovering from a leg injury.

LEGION'S ANNUAL WHIST ON NOVEMBER 22nd

The annual whist party of the Wilmington Post 136, American Legion for the purpose of raising money for food baskets for needy families will be held in the Legion hall on November 22nd, at 8 p.m. In inviting the public to the party, Past Commander Arthur B. Harper has promised that there will be plenty of prizes, and reminds the public that this is the only time during the year that the Wilmington post tries to raise money from the general public, for this charity.

WILMINGTON METHODIST CHURCH TO CONDUCT EVERY MEMBER CANVASS, SUNDAY NOVEMBER 14

In keeping with the National Council of Churches program, the members and friends of the Wilmington Methodist Church will be given an opportunity to share in the financial responsibility of the church for 1955. The National theme this year is: "Of Thine Own Have We Given Thee."

A group of 50 canvassers will be consecrated to their talks at the morning worship services on Sunday November 14. During these services, the Rev. Ricard E. Harding will preach on the theme: "Stewards of Possessions." Every member and friend of the parish has been extended an invitation to share in either the 9:15 or 11 a.m. worship service.

Following the 11 a.m. service a canvassers luncheon will be served after which the canvassers will call in the homes of the church during the afternoon and evening.

A fine training program was held for the canvassers on Saturday night, November 6. The Rev. James Doty led the men and women in the training period and many helpful suggestions grew out of the discussion. A turkey dinner was prepared and served by Harry Alsworth and Wilbur Stavelay, which was enjoyed by everyone present. Mrs. Wilburn was in charge of plans for the evening program, and Mr. Harding acted as master of ceremonies.

Rev. Mr. Harding has reminded the friends of the church that if it's going too meet the growing challenge serving the community, through its church school, youth activities, and various adult programs, and particularly the worship needs, each person must assume a reasonable proportion of the finance of the church. Mr. Doty in his challenge to the canvassers, suggested as a minimum offering for Christ and his church and amount equal to the first hours salary on Monday morning. At the same time he stated that he was a tither, and found that he was not unhappy about this, in fact it was something that made his personal life more significant.

Families of the church have been urged to be at home on Sunday to save the canvasser the necessity of making an additional call, as all calls are to be made by the middle of the week.

D.A.V. AUXILIARY NEWS

The next regular meeting of the Disabled American Veteran's Auxiliary will be held at the clubhouse, 60 Grove avenue on Thursday evening, November 11th, at 8 p.m. Refreshments will be served and a social hour will follow the meeting.

The next whist party and penny sale sponsored by the D.A.V. will be held Saturday evening, November 27th at 8:30 p.m.

BOY SCOUTS TO PARTICIPATE IN "GOODWILL" INDUSTRIES

Wilmington's Boy Scout Troops 56, 57 and 58 will be working for the "Goodwill" Industry of Lowell for the next couple of weeks. In common with all the Boy Scouts of Greater Lowell Council, the boys will be distributing, and then collecting "Goodwill" bags.

The Goodwill Industry of Lowell, on Willie Street, is an organization that employs handicapped people, who can not work in other places. These people are employed in repairing second hand clothing, shoes, etc., so that they can be sold, and serve as a source of supply of clothing for needy people.

10,000 bags for the Goodwill Industry will be distributed by the Scouts of the Lowell Council, to every home within the area of the Council. The bags will be left at every home, with the deadline being the 15th of November. On the 20th of November these bags are to be returned to the council, or in front of the homes where they will be picked up by Boy Scouts, and taken to depots, for transporting to the Willie Street shop of the Goodwill Industry.

Boy Scout Commissioner Foster Baker, of Middlesex Avenue, in commenting on the work of the Boy Scouts, has said: This is a chance for the Boy Scouts of Wilmington to do three good turns at one time. They will help the needy, to buy clothing cheaply. They will help the handicapped, to have employment. They will help themselves, by doing a "Good Turn" for their neighbors. If you have any clothing, or shoes, or even books, with which you are finished, look for the Boy Scout with the Goodwill Bag, on or before November 15th. You too, can do your "Good Turn".

TOWN REPORTS AND TOTEM POLES

As the crisp fall weather rolls around we are reminded that the time has come for the Town Manager to consider his 1955 budget, and his 1954 Town Report.

During the past few years we have seen a consistent effort to improve the Town Report, a praiseworthy effort, but one that has left us not overly impressed. There has been an effort to cut out certain parts, which were considered "excess wordage". We will readily admit that there are parts that could be eliminated, and that the choice is difficult, in many cases. The person who makes up the Town Report is just as liable to be blamed, as to be praised, for his efforts.

To our way of thinking the main thing that has been eliminated has been the signatures of the responsible officials. Once in a while this might have saved the town money, but it has always left the reader with a slight doubt as to (1) who wrote the report anyway, and (2) was there anything else cut out?

One thing that was not cut out was what we call the Totem Pole. This is the part that generally appears towards the last of a report by a department, and reads something like this: "And in conclusion I would like to thank Mr. A. for the many hours of assistance he has lent this department, and Mr. B. for the efforts he has made in our behalf and Mr. C. for the wonderful guidance and help, etc. etc."

Frequently the report does not mention Mr. A., or Mr. B., or Mr. C., unless they too happen to be town officials, probably superior to the official who is making the report. The higher the official the more praise he gets, and that praise, of course, costs the taxpayer money. The Town officials are paid for their work. There is no necessity of spending more of the taxpayers money, in praising the next fellow up the Totem Pole. There is no necessity, but it is done.

If we are to improve our Town Reports let us do so in a manner that will make it easier for the ordinary individual to understand what is going on. Making a report readable is laudable, but it should also leave the reader with no misunderstanding as to the business of the town.

Let us take the Report of the Water Commissioners as an example. (We know they will not object).

In the first place, they were not, in 1953, or in any other year that we can recall, guilty of the Totem Pole practice. They have always tried to submit a businesslike report. Their signature, last year, was cut out, presumably in an effort to save the town money, and in place appeared a cartoon which took much more space, and cost more money. Moreover, the final straw, it wasn't funny.

In 1953 the Water Department cost the town of Wilmington a total of $127,588.90, and the revenue they brought to the town was $65,086.74. These facts do not appear in their report, but can be determined by any intelligent reader who will do as they suggest - examine the Town Accountant's report.

How many of our readers will go to this effort? If we are trying to make a report readable, we are presumably doing this so that one does not have to be a Bank Examiner to understand what one is reading.

The Board of Water Commissioners, conscientious gentlemen and officials that they are, have for years been trying to impress on their fellow townspeople the cost of their department. Yet their final figures have been hidden, in a statement that it is too complicated for many of our citizens, in the back of the Town Report.

We can improve our Town Report. We can cut out the Totem Poles. We can cut out the cartoons, or at least the more silly of them. We can, at the end of most Department Reports, add a paragraph that will show how much was appropriated, and what became of the money, and how much the town made or lost. In simple language this would be an asset that would make our Town Report not only readable, but one that would impart valuable information as well.

PS - If we are to have pictures on the cover, we should caption them or have an explanatory note inside, so that future generations may know the identity of the building, or locale of which we are so proud.

THE NEW HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING

Half a dozen years ago the town spent nearly half a million dollars, on the first part of a new high school. It was money well spent, for the building that was erected was, by and large, a credit to the town, and to the committee that was in charge.

At the present time the foundations are being poured for the last part of the high school, a job far bigger in scope than the first part. The work of the project committee, at least at this point, seems to surpass that of the first committee.

They came to the town with a proposal, and the town gave them the authority to go ahead. They now have a contract for a building that will be even better in several ways, and which will not cost as much as the town voted. It would appear, at this writing that the committee is saving the town $100,000 on this last part of our high school.

An excellent start!

POLIO OR SOMETHING ELSE?

Wilmington, in the past several months has had five or six cases of a baffling disease. It has all the earmarks of poliomyelitis, but the crippling effects have not been noted, and there are those who believe that the disease is caused by an unknown and new virus.

One case, definitely, was bulbar poliomyelitis, and unfortunately it was fatal.

Four other cases have been reported to the Board of Health, and in each case the patient was hospitalized. In each case it was non paralytic. A sixth case is now understood to exist, but the Board of Health as yet has no report of it.

If these cases are polio Wilmington has had an epidemic. If such is the case the epidemic is probably past, for polio is a warm weather disease.

The chances seem to be that they were not polio, but the new virus, as yet unknown and unnamed.

Tampa Florida, this summer, had an epidemic of polio reported. The Federal Government sent a corps of experts to the city, where a total of 375 cases were reported. These people, from the Communicable Disease Center in Atlanta, found that the largest number of "polio" cases were either benign, or some other disease, one that closely resembled polio but had no crippling effects.

As yet no one knows the answer, which isn't much encouragement to worried parents. However, the cases which have showed up in Wilmington (with the exception of the fatal one) have so far had no crippling effects, which is to say the least, a consolation.

OUT OF THE CORNER OF HIS MOUTH

We looked up as we heard a shuffle beside us. It was our old friend who has to talk out of the corner of his mouth. He glared at us. "What's the matter?" he asked. "Can't you ever get anything right?" "You misquote me, every time -- you don't seem to pay attention to anything!"

What happened to that column by Phyllis -- you know the one you call Here and There -- you didn't have that one in a couple of weeks ago, -- you ought to call it Now and Then -- and you've got the Chief of Police mad at me -- what are you trying to do, anyway?"

We told him we were merely trying to run a newspaper. He came back at us -- "You made me look like I was trying to make the Chief of Police into a dope! -- I told you that he didn't like those Blueberry Bushes, and wouldn't let one of them get on the cruiser, but you didn't even hear me! Don't you ever get your stories straight? Now maybe the Chief is mad at me, and the next time I get juggled I might not get out!" He glared at me from over the top of his glasses -- glasses obviously not fitted by Doc Chernoff.

We murmured something about it might be a good idea if the Chief did throw away the keys, after our friend had been juggled. He paid no attention to us. "The reason why there were no blueberry bushes on the old cruiser is because the Chief didn't want them there. I don't know how he did it, but he did -- and don't you go and get me thrown in the clink!"

To change the subject we asked him how he liked the election results. He brightened -- "Just like I said they were going to be. I won a good pile of dough, betting on Saltonstall -- I see where Bob Moran was going to collect a cigar off you if Murphy won -- did he give you a cigar yet? -- I made only one mistake, and I should have known better. I bet against that namesake of Jack Kennedy's -- I haven't found a Democrat yet who can tell me who this John F. really is, but he has the same name, and he won. He got elected, and it cost dough! I hope he is as good a fellow as Jack! Jack is my idea of a swell guy! -- Excuse me, I gotta go!"

We looked up and saw the Chief of Police driving around the corner.

surprised themselves, and everyone else, last Thursday, by defeating the "A" team of the Phillips Andover Academy, a highly rated team which had been expected to smother the local boys. The quality of the "A" team may be judged from the fact that the "B" team has defeated Howe, a class "C" team, and Wilmington is in class "D".

The score, 7 to 0, was the result of a long 60 yard plunge through the middle of the Phillips team by Dick Anderson, a run that did not stop until he had crossed the line. Capt DePiano made the point, on conversion.

THE SELECTMEN'S MEETING Bedford Air Base

The Selectmen discussed a letter Monday night which had been written to Selectmen of towns within 10 miles of Bedford Air Base, by the secretary of the Board of Selectmen of Lincoln. The letter stated that on Oct. 13, 1954 the Town of Lincoln had voted unanimously, in town meeting, to adopt a resolution against expansion of the Bedford Airport, and that letters were being written to all surrounding towns seeking to enlist their assistance. In part the letter related that the Air Base had been designed as a research center, handy to such places as the MIT laboratories, and that investigation now shows that there are plans for expansion, with more than 75 planes in daily operation, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, with the attendant noise in a highly populated area. Selectman Woods led the discussion, pointing out that this was a feature of national defense. He also pointed out that Bedford Air Base is an important factor in employment in this part of Middlesex County. Mrs. Drew was not in favor of any action by Wilmington, and on motion of Selectman E. Hayward Bliss it was voted unanimously to table the request.

Snow Plowing

A letter was received regarding state and county assistance for snow plowing on the through routes in Wilmington. Selectman Charles Black spoke up to say that he was very much dissatisfied, pointing out that no assistance was to be given for that part of Route 129 which lies north of Lowell street, and over Shawheen Avenue. Black stated that a great part of the traffic on this route was not local, and that State assistance should be given. The Town is getting stuck. Black moved that a letter be sent to John Volpe, Commissioner of Public Works, and to F.D. Savin, Engineer, protesting the conditions of the letter. This was voted.

Pin Ball Machines

Notice had been received from a Mr. McLaughlin, of the Department of Public Safety, that there were three places in Wilmington which were allowing pin ball machines to operate on Sunday's without a Sunday license. He had warned all three places to stop.

On discussion it was recalled that the Selectmen had voted that the Sunday license for pinball machines be $25 a year, or 50 cents a week, and that there had been apparently no applications since that vote. Mrs. Drew moved that all such licensing be as the first of January, and that if any licenses were granted they be only to Dec. 31st, in order to keep more easily records of such licenses, and this was adopted.

Christmas Decorations

Selectman Bliss stated that he had been approached by the Wilmington merchants who wanted to decorate the Square, on Christmas. They wanted to make sure that the Selectmen would not only approve, but to all intents bestow their blessing on such a move. He moved that the Selectmen approve, and this was voted.

Hunting

Mrs. Drew reported getting several calls from Wilmington residents who were disturbed by hunting conditions in Wilmington. They were very disturbed at conditions, according to Mrs. Drew. Bliss related that he had read a motion prepared by the Chief of Police of Chelmsford, for the Selectmen there. TM Courtney told the board that he would have an article in the Town Warrant, for the spring meeting, to cover the situation.

TM's Report State House Hearing

Courtney told the board that he had attended a hearing in the State House, on Monday, in which, according to their instructions, he had spoken against the proposals for a State Board of Appeals. He spoke for 10 minutes he said, against this, and asking them to take under

5 WEEKS VACATION A YEAR SAVE ALMOST $100 A YEAR AND STOP SHOVELING COAL

When you buy fuel are you buying coal or are you buying heat? Of course, you buy heat. Then ask yourself this important question: "Am I getting the most for my time and money?"

The answer is "No"! Because if you are burning coal you spend an average of one hour per day stoking the furnace, walking up and down stairs, taking out the ashes and ash barrels. This totals 210 hours per heating season or 5 40-hour weeks of leisure. Could you use that? Wouldn't that be worth three or four hundred dollars?

From the financial standpoint, if you burn 8 tons of hard coal this winter it will cost you about $216. You would get the same amount of heat from 928 gallons of oil for only $124.35. Think of it . . . a difference of $91.65. Why?

Because the scientific fact is you get more heat units delivered to your rooms from a Coal is a good fuel. But stop and think! burn the more money oil will save you. dollar's worth of oil than you get from a dollar's worth of coal. The more coal you

Ah . . . you say . . . that's fine, but I have to buy an oil burner for three or four hundred dollars to burn oil. Yes, you do. But read this carefully and you won't be another cold day without oil heat.

You can convert your coal burning boiler to a modern efficient oil-fired unit with the amazing new Winkler low pressure Oil Burner for only $13.95 per month—and you pay nothing until January.

Look at these figures. Compare the cost. Then ask yourself if you are willing to keep shoveling coal.

8 tons of coal per year or

928 Gallons of oil per year at 13.4 cents per gal. . . $10.36 per mo.

Total Cost . . . $24.31
Total Difference . . . $ 6.31

There you have it: Complete oil heating comfort for $6.31 a month more than you now pay for coal alone. Just about cigarette money! But it gets even better. Because after 36 months you begin to pocket these fuel savings.

How would you like to have your rent or mortgage reduced over $7.60 per month!

That's what $91.65 in fuel savings means.

Look what Chapin Nichols offers you for $13.95 per month.

1. A Premium quality oil burner; the famous Winkler low-pressure Oil Burner.
2. A fine hand crafted combustion chamber in your boiler.
3. A complete set of automatic controls.
4. A complete tank piped and installed.
5. A baffle which is specially engineered for your boiler.
6. A finger-touch control thermostat.

What is a low-pressure oil burner anyway? Briefly, an ordinary high-pressure burner is made so it cannot possibly give you uninterrupted operation burning less fuel than 1 1/4 gallons per hour. A Winkler Low-Pressure Oil Burner can be fired at as little as a half gallon per hour. Do you realize what this can mean in extra fuel savings to you?

Don't miss out. Now is the time when maximum savings can be made to help you pay for your burner out of fuel savings. Remember, with your Winkler Low Pressure Oil Burner, you'll just touch the thermostat and relax in comfort. Start enjoying your oil heat right away. And most important: we will make the change without interrupting your heat. Stop shoveling dollar bills into the hungry mouth of your coal furnace. Give up being chained to a coal shovel and start saving that hard cash you're wasting on heat. Let your fingertip do the work your back has been doing.

Call Chapin-Nichols right away at REading 2-3290 and ask for Mr. Rimbach. A courteous, trained heating engineer will call on you at your convenience and completely without obligation. You'll get no high pressure from Reading's oldest and one of its most reliable heating firms. Do it now! It will cost you nothing to inquire . . . but it may save you plenty!

Dear Sir:

This is to inform you of a change in address, so that I may continue to receive my Crusader regularly and without delay.

I look forward to the arrival of the mailman each Monday, for he generally drops off the latest copy of the Crusader at that time.

SIGNORE PRESENTS PLAN AT PUBLIC HEARING

The Wilmington Planning Board, last Wednesday evening, listened to the presentation of the plan for the development of the "Elmwood Village" by Anthony Signore, of Saugus. Elmwood Village is a part of the former estate of the late C. S. Harriman.

Signore was represented by Atty Simon Cutter. A plan had been submitted for 32 lots, the least of which was 22,500 feet in area.

TM Joseph Courtney, present at the hearing, read a list of recommendations by the various department heads of the town, which recommendations, in large part, answered objections that spectators were about to present.

Among the subjects discussed by Courtney, for settlement before the plan can be approved, as he put it, were sizes of water mains, locations of hydrants, naming of streets, drainage of the area, construction and width of streets, determination of the water table, and the placing of curbstones and "surveying monuments". Courtney pointed out that the plan lacked many details, that were supposed to be shown on a "Definitive Plan" according to Planning Board regulations.

After some discussion Atty Cutter agreed that the problems could be worked out, and a tentative meeting was planned with the Department Heads of the town, to discuss the problems.

NAVY OFFERS COLLEGE TRAINING

High school senior and graduates have only until November 20 to apply for the Navy's college training program, it was announced today. Candidates who apply for the NROTC will take the qualifying mental examination on December 11 as the first step in the competitive cycle leading to an appointment as midshipman.

Successful candidates will start their Naval careers in colleges and universities across the country in 1955, with substantial financial assistance from the government. After a normal college education, graduates will be commissioned in the Regular Navy or Marine Corps, for active duty with the Fleet throughout the world.

Male citizens of the United States, between the ages of 17 and 21 are eligible to apply for the NROTC aptitude test. Persons who attain a qualifying score will be given the Navy's rigid midshipman physical examination next February. From the pool of qualified candidates remaining in competition, approximately 1,800 young men will be selected for appointment to the NROTC, and the college of their choice.

Students enrolled in the Regular NROTC program will spend their summers on training cruises with the Fleet, and will receive $600 annual retainer pay until commissioned. In addition to the normal college curriculum, the midshipmen will study a planned course in Naval science. All tuition, fees, and books will be furnished by the Navy.

This college training program is also open to enlisted men on active duty in the Navy and Marine Corps. Such candidates will be selected under a separate quota established for the services.

Applications are now available at all high schools, colleges, and U.S. Navy Recruiting Stations, or direct from the Chief of Naval Personnel, Washington 25, D.C.

New Aircraft Ignition Cable

An ignition cable for aircraft engines that resists the corrosive effects of electrically generated ozone gases and engine washing compounds has recently been developed. The new high tension conduit has three layers of pure nickel braid on the outside to shield the rest of the cable from corrosive attack and heat.

Controlled Expansion Alloys

The most useful property of the alloys with 30 to 40 per cent nickel is their exceptionally low coefficient of expansion. These alloys are used for a series of industrial applications, such as measuring tapes in instruments requiring fixed points under varying temperatures, in the watch making industry and for bimetallic thermostats. The United States Bureau of Standards has found that tapes made of these alloys will vary less than one part in 500,000 after six months use in the field.

Important "Jet" Alloys

The Nimonic and Inconel series of high nickel alloys constitute one of the most important groups of alloys developed to meet the demand of jet engine manufacturers for materials with resistance to heat and oxidation at elevated temperatures. These alloys, which are employed widely in components of aircraft gas turbines, will retain their strength at temperatures as high as 1500 degrees Fahrenheit.

Opposite Effect from Same Treatment

Ordinary steel is hardened and strengthened by being raised to a high temperature and then cooled rapidly by quenching. The carbon dissolves in the iron and is kept in solution by the rapid cooling. On the other hand, if the same steel is cooled slowly from a high temperature all the carbon precipitates out and the steel becomes soft. However, non-ferrous alloys such as aluminum bronze, beryllium-copper and "K" Monel, react directly opposite they are soft when cooled quickly from a high temperature, and hard when heated at intermediate temperatures.

Nickel Aids Heat-Resisting Alloys

Nickel, either as the main or a secondary constituent, in alloys for use at elevated temperatures, considerably improves their strength and toughness and enhances their resistance to corrosion when in contact with a wide variety of hot liquids and gases.

Long-Life Heating Elements

Practically all of the electrical heating elements used in domestic appliances such as toasters, electric irons, ranges and waffle irons, are made of alloys of nickel and chromium. These alloys resist oxidation and remain mechanically stable at temperatures as high as 1800 degrees Fahrenheit, thus insuring long-life heating elements.

Ni-Resist is the name given to the group of nickel-chromium cast irons developed to provide good resistance to corrosion and heat.
These alloy cast irons bear a similar relationship to ordinary cast iron as do the stainless steels to ordinary steels.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

May I through your columns thank my many friends in Wilmington for their fine support at the election. If it were possible I would like to cash the hand of every one of you and thank you personally. During the next two years I will try to carry on my duty in the Legislature in a way that will not make my friends sorry that they did support me.

Sincerely
Charles E. Wilkinson.

DIABETES WEEK NOV. 14-20

Local residents may be tested for diabetes without cost as part of a Diabetes Detection Drive, November 14-20, 1954. It was announced today by Dr. E. C. MacDougall, member of the Middlesex East District Diabetes Committee. In an effort to find an estimated million people who have diabetes and don't know it, the American Diabetes Association is renewing its annual drive during Diabetes Week of this year.

Plans for diabetes testing throughout the State are being spearheaded by the Massachusetts Medical Society. During Diabetes Detection Week, local physicians will perform urine tests for diabetes in their offices without charge. Hospitals, health departments and other groups will also cooperate in this effort to find unknown diabetics early and set them under treatment.

Although diabetes is not curable, it can be controlled. Early diagnosis and treatment are known to reduce serious complications and prolong life. Once under control, the disease seldom interferes with normal life and activity.

Provision of testing stations or the offer by doctors to test urine for sugar without charge during Diabetes Week has met with striking success during the drives of the past six years. On the basis of surveys it is estimated that one out of every seventy-five persons in the United States is found to have diabetes; about half of the group do not know they have it.

The American Diabetes Association explains that diabetes is called a silent disease because it often has no symptoms until it is far advanced. Common signs of diabetes which sometimes bring persons to the doctor's office are loss of weight, no pep, constant hunger, excessive thirst, passing too much urine and slow healing of cuts and bruises.

The Middlesex East District Diabetes Committee strongly urges individuals to make sure they don't have diabetes by taking advantage of this testing service during the week of November 14, 1954.

SPEECH OF BRITISH CONSUL GENERAL AT COMBINED WILMINGTON-WOBURN ROTARY DINNER

William Barker, newly appointed British Consul General, of Her Majesty's Consulate General, in Boston, spoke before a combined meeting of the Rotary Clubs of Wilmington and Woburn, at the Wilmington Club, last Wednesday. Mr. Barker, who had formerly served in Norway and Prague, with the Consular service, spoke of recent international events, somewhat in the following manner:

Events of the past few weeks have changed the perspective of the world, and it might be well to review them, in order that they be more clearly understood. During World War II the Allies included America, Britain, and the Soviet Russian Republics, combined in an effort to defeat Germany. Prior to that time the Soviets had often expressed in World Communism their one constant aim, and their stated objective. Everyone knew that the Soviets were interested in promoting world revolution, and were using the local Communist parties in the different nations for this purpose.

It was thought, by many people, that the enormous assistance given to them, during the war, might cause them to settle in their manners, and that we could have a peaceable and friendly state of existence, after the war.

The Russian leaders, however, had made up their minds on their future course, and not later than in 1943, as was evidenced at Teheran, and was later shown at Yalta and Potsdam. Their continued drive for world revolution was thus really no news to anyone, and as the Red Army followed in the wake of the retreating Germans, Communist power was established in Rumania, Hungary, and in Poland, for example, and later in Czechoslovakia, which the local Communists had prepared for the plucking.

Gradually even the most optimistic of the leaders of the Western nations became alarmed—our government, and yours, were rather slow. However the first step was taken in 1947, with the Brussels treaty, banding Britain, France, Belgium and Holland into a defensive alliance, with economic pledges. A week or two before the treaty was signed we saw the Communist coup in Czechoslovakia, naked aggression, with no room for doubt.

From Brussels we went on to the North Atlantic Treaty, the so-called NATO, which was very significant, for in this, for the first time, the United States was pledged to such a treaty, which treaty also brought in Canada and Britain, along with the Western European powers. This treaty was clearly a framework against aggression from the East, with co-operation on the widest scale. Even pacifist countries, like Norway and Iceland joined, and the extent of their effort may be seen in that Norway is devoting one third of its entire budget to defense, within the NATO treaty. Within a year, too, Turkey and Greece were in NATO, and it now comprises an alliance of 14 countries.

We have had two remarkable men at the head of the NATO alliance, the now President of the United States, General Eisenhower, and General Greunther. The gains made by NATO under the leadership of these men was most impressive. Last year General Greunther publicly stated that the danger of a quick conquest, from the East, was over, but that he did not guarantee that the armies could hold back the conquest forever.

NATO was a tremendous step, but the pattern of defense was not complete. Everyone was agreed that any defensive line should be as far east as was possible. This was the reason that brought in Germany. Britain and the United States were agreed on this, but they could not bring Western Germany into the agreement directly, because of the latent fears of remilitarized German army. The US and Britain proposed that the German Federal Republic be brought into NATO, under the command of the NATO commander, but the French said "No".

France counterproposed that 6 countries including Germany and themselves be made into an European Army under unified command. This was acceded to by Britain and the U.S., and other governments agreed subject to ratification. One after another the various countries ratified this treaty, but in September of this year the French Assembly threw out the treaty which their government had proposed two years earlier.

Prospects for including Germany had definitely receded, and this was less than two months ago. But some of the governments decided on a bold plan of action. Our Foreign Secretary, now Sir Anthony Eden made a series of quick calls, to the various Capitals with new proposals with a plan with which he was in agreement with your Secretary of State, Mr. Dulles, and the Canadian's Mr. Pearson.

A 9 Power Conference was called of Britain, the United States, Canada and 6 European Powers, in October 1954, and in that conference a plan sponsored by the US and Britain was adopted, one of momentous decision. The occupation of Germany is to be brought to an end as soon as possible. The Brussels treaty is to be revived, with the additions of Germany and Italy, and the German Federal Republic will have its own army, to contribute to the defensive effort, through NATO and General Greunther, which would be extended to prevent nationalistic tendencies in the German Army. This was made possible by the work of Eden, because now, for the first time, British Troops have been definitely committed to the Continent of Europe—Four British Divisions, and a Technical Air Force will be established on the continent, without recall except through the Brussels treaty.

The treaty is not universally popular in Britain, but it has been accepted.

We have one other thorny problem -- the Saar. That, and Trieste were two powder barrels, but Trieste was quietly settled two months ago, and after the London Conference the French and the Germans got together in Paris and agreed on an international status for the Saar, neither French nor German. I think we can find this to be quite satisfactory.

Those people who have been fearing a German army have had their fears collapsed by two things -- the British Divisions in Europe, and the Germans being under NATO. Obviously, too, the German Army will not be able to dominate Europe, in any organization that has the power of the United States within it.

There is a tendency of the people of the United States to be a little more critical of their foreign policy than they should. The United States today is a world leader and the remarkable thing is not that you have made so many mistakes, but that you have made so few.

VETERANS DAY IS NOVEMBER 11TH

November eleventh is no longer Armistice Day. That is significant because for 25 years we have celebrated the end of World War One hostilities on that date. However Armistice Day has lost its importance. History has discredited its original meaning. For the first time in the history of our country we are now celebrating Veteran's Day - although we have had war veterans since 1775. Congress has recently named November 11 as the special day for commemorating American veterans of all wars.

That Congressional action was sponsored originally by the organization that I represent, the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States. The bill signed by President Eisenhower, himself a member of the VFW, has designated November eleventh solely as a day of tribute to all the men and women who have served in the armed forces of the United States, especially to those who have been in combat, and those who made the supreme sacrifice.

In the Arlington National Cemetery, in Virginia, there are more than 70 thousand graves. There rest the dead American patriots of every war since the 1775 revolution. High on a hill at Arlington is a single, perpetually guarded tomb, enclosing the remains of an unidentified veteran of World War One. No one knows who he was or where he was born. The inscription upon his tomb merely says "Here rests in honored glory an American soldier, known but to God."

That unidentified hero is but a symbol. There are many thousands like him around the earth. They are buried in foreign soils and beneath the seven seas. They are unnamed, known but to God. But they are all American veterans, defenders of our land and our ideals. Their only compensation is honor in death.

On this first Veterans Day, in 1954, we pay homage to all the men who fought and died for America during the past 179 years.

Also on this day we give our special respects to the thousands of men who lie disabled in hospitals. They must not be forgotten. They shall never be forgotten.

And on this day we also salute

BRITISH CONSUL GENERAL AND ROTARIANS

with all the fervor of good comradeship, the millions of able-bodied men who have returned from the wars, fit and ready to fight again. If fight they must, to keep secure, and in full glory all that is the United States of America.

That is the theme of Veterans' Day.

D.A.V. AUXILIARY TO MEET THURSDAY

The next regular meeting of the Disabled American Veterans' Auxiliary will be held at the club house at 60 Grove Avenue on Thursday evening, November 11, at 8:00 P.M. Refreshments will be served and a social hour will follow.

SHAUGHNESSY APPRECIATION

I wish to express my thanks to the people of Wilmington for the vote of confidence accorded me on Election Day.

To my friends and loyal supporters, I offer my heartfelt thanks for their splendid effort in my behalf. It was like "victory in defeat" to receive their expression of confidence.

Congratulations to the winning team of Frank D. Tanner and Charles E. Wilkinson and best wishes during the coming two years.

Alderman William G. "Bill" Shaughnessy 42 Garfield Avenue, Woburn

WILMINGTON JV'S HAVE THREE GOOD GAMES

Wilmington's Junior Varsity football team has had three good games since the first of November with two wins, and a tying of a team from a much larger school. sparkplug of the team, apparently, is Billy Rosa, who is turning out to have real leadership qualities, and who is doing his full share in keeping the team in a winning spirit.

On November 8 the team played Woburn, on the Wilmington field, and tied the boys from the bigger school up in a 6 to 6 game. Burned Nally made the tying touchdown, on a line plunge. Cavallaro also crossed the line after a fine 60 yard run, only to have the ball declared dead.

Last Friday the JV's were hosts to the Johnson JV's, and when the docks were cleared the score was 14 to 12 in Wilmington's favor. Both touchdowns were made by Dick Moore, after receiving passes, and Bernie Nally made one of the extra points, with Buzzy Fields scoring the other.

Saturday the JV's met the JV's from Phillips Andover Academy, on the academy grounds, and rode home in triumph, with a 25 to 6 score. Two of the touchdowns were scored on passing, Fields to Sharp, and the other two on line plunges, one by Nally and the other by Cavallaro. The extra point was scored by Fields.

Heavyweight Chimney

The towering 637-foot chimney being constructed for International Nickel's new iron ore recovery plant near Copper Cliff, Ontario, will weigh 17,000 tons. Being built of reinforced concrete, it will contain over 500,000 pounds of reinforcing steel nearly 100,000 pounds of insulating material, and 9,000 pounds of stainless steel for the coping at the top of the shell.

SELECTMEN'S MEETING

advisement section 81R of the Sub-Division Act. Courtney reported that the majority of town officials present were against the state Board of Appeals.

Budget Forms

The TM told the board that he was preparing forms, to be used by the various departments in preparation of their budgets. In these forms the Town Accountant would enter the sums allocated for the previous year, to help serve as a guide to the officials concerned. This would allow all accounts to be prepared with such a classification that they would "mesh together". Courtney explained that it might take a little longer in the beginning, but it would save time in the long run.

Streets

Courtney brought up the subject of naming streets to be accepted in the annual Town Meeting. He divided streets into three classifications, viz: Those already accepted, but on which nothing had been done, (2) those which could be accepted without much cost to the town, and (3) those which would be expensive to accept. He told the Selectmen that a number of streets had been accepted, and nothing ever done, and this should be borne in mind in allocating funds for streets acceptance.

After some discussion it was decided that the residents of the town should apply directly to the Town Manager to have their streets named for acceptance in 1955, and a deadline of Dec. 1, 1954 was set for such applications.

Black reminded the Board, and the TM that no streets would be "laid out" by the Selectmen unless there were a 100% "signing of releases", forms of which can be obtained from the Town Clerk.

Street Lights

Courtney also brought up the subject of street lights, seeking the manner in which they should be named (for new lights, in 1955). It had been practically decided to follow a system similar to that of the streets, until Black reminded the Board that this was a warrant article, and that it couldn't be closed until the warrant was closed. Because of this the discussion was dropped, with the list of new street lights remaining open until four weeks before the annual town meeting.

Route 28

Courtney reported that Mr. Harold Melzar, of the Board of Water Commissioners had stated that the proposed new route for Route 28, which would cross Salem street somewhere between Martin's brook and the town dump would offer no difficulties to the Water Department, according to a preliminary inspection on his part.

Traffic Signs

The TM told the Selectmen that a Mr. O'Halloran of the Department of Public Works, Street Supt. Jimmy White and himself were getting together for an all inclusive list of street signs in Wilmington, for traffic, and that "I think we will have a good sign program, for traffic control."

Safety Survey

The Massachusetts Safety Council is sending a Mr. Bruce Campbell to make a safety survey of the entire town, to point out trouble spots, Courtney said (apparently referring to traffic). "They do a good job - pinpointed recommendations."

Widwood School

A meeting is to be held on Tuesday, with the Town Counsel, Wildwood School Building Committee, attorney for the contractor and architect, to "iron out" the difficulties concerning the roof, Courtney reported. He stated that "an ultimatum" will be given to the contractor, "or else".

Industrial Committee

The Wilmington Industrial Committee is to meet with the Directors of the Reading Electric Light Board on Friday, Nov. 26th, to talk over the power situation in Wilmington, the TM stated.

Cottage Street

Woods enquired as to progress on Cottage street. He was told the catch basins were in, and that a drain line had been led over to Veranda avenue. It was planned to cross this street in such a manner as to hold up traffic as little as possible. Courtney reported that the men were working in water up to their knees, and that he suspected that the drain would perhaps act as an "equalizer" in times of high water.

Town Dump

Mrs. Drew enquired as to progress at the Town Dump. She was told that a shanty had been purchased in Norwood, for $35, which was to be used by the watchman, after it had been painted. The shanty was insulated, and had space for a stove, and should serve the purpose of protecting the watchman nicely, the Selectmen were told.

A sign is to be erected at the dump, advising of the regulations, and hours. The dump will have open hours on both Saturday and Sunday, but not on Monday, which will be the custodian's day off.

Lowell Street

A report was made that one of the residents of Veranda Avenue had been dredging the ditch that leads from Silver Lake, in an effort to control the water level near his home.

Black then reported that a culvert on Lowell street was in need of work, "and was reported over a month ago"—"people screeching for action" "flooded meadow".

Courtney told the board that the trouble stemmed from the fact that there were two law suits against the town, by adjoining owners, MacIntosh and Yentile. The culvert was in a questionable area, in the old area for Cross street, and it wasn't known just what should be done.

Black: The County Commissioners laid out Cross street, and damages have been assessed."

Courtney: "The culvert is roughly on both men's property. There is supposed to have been a verbal agreement with the last Town Manager, but no one knows just what it was"—"It is an old clay pipe which has collapsed—I told the Highway Superintendent to go ahead and dig it up with a back hoe—but if the roadway is abandoned do we have to maintain it?"

THE NEW LAWN

Ever since the new Police Fire Station has been in use there has been a custom of driving cars across what was intended for the front lawn. The TM finally got some loam on the plot, and the Fire Laddies turned out and seeded a new lawn, on both sides of the walk. They put in a hedge, and then sat back to let nature take its course.

Before nature had a chance however, some of our neighbors did something about it. They just drove their car over the new lawn, one dark evening (it was a Tewksbury couple). Now the Fire Laddies are wondering if a concrete hedge would have been better.

THANKS TO FATHER SHEA

We acknowledge, with distinct pleasure, a brochure from the Rev. Albert Shea, now of St. James, in Boston. It is a complete story of the church, which was published at the time of the Centenary Mass, a few weeks past. We shall put it in our files, and hope that it doesn't disappear.

EASTER LILIES

Ernest Crispo, of Hopkins street is the proud possessor of some Easter Lilies, in full bloom. He takes them out and suns them, on warm days, and puts them back in his home at night.

THE BIGGEST MEETING YET
Wilmington's Rotary Club had its biggest meeting on record, (we think) last week. It had, as guests members of the Woburn Rotary, and all told 110 Rotarians were in the dining room of the Masonic Clubhouse, during the lunch. The noise was so great it could have been cut with a knife.

THE FIRST 55

Honors for registering the first 1955 Chevrolet goes to Adam Galka, of Beacon street, at least as far as the Lowell Registry is concerned. Adam bought his car from Gildart's the day the new Chevy was announced, and had it registered before the office of the Registry closed for the day.

CHRISTMAS RUSH

Now that the Christmas rush is approaching, Postmaster Henry Porter will be hiring a few part time employees. We understand that he is ready to interview anyone who wants a job, as of right now.

THEFT OF LUMBER REPORTED
Six pieces of lumber, two inches by six inches in sizes were stolen from property of Alden S. Eames, on Sh-whseen avenue, on Nov. 5th, according to a report dated Nov. 5th.

LOSES CASH

A report to the Wilmington police, dated Nov. 6th, states that the sum of $9.85 was lost, somewhere between Wilmington square and Carter's Lane, by James J. Lyons of Carter's Lane.

ST. DOROTHY'S TO HAVE RECTORY

St. Dorothy's Parish is to have its own Rectory, probably about next February. The old home of Claude W. Thompson, on Harnden street along with the grove to Archbishop Cushing, several years past, is being altered for a Rectory.

Contractor is P.F. Beresford, of Medford, and the estimated costs of alterations, as filed with the Building Inspector, totals $30,000. A complete change of the layout of rooms is to be made on the second floor of the building, and the roof has already been raised two feet six inches. The entire outside of the building will also be refinished.

WATER FINALLY CONNECTED TO HOME

The Board of Health, last Thursday evening were told that water had been connected to the home of a woman in the East part of Wilmington. The woman had complained to the board, over half a year ago, that she had no water in her well, and that the owner of the home would do nothing about it. Cost of the installation of town water, to the owner is understood to have been $40. He had been given an alternative, by the Board of Health, of connecting town water or digging a deeper well, on penalty of having the house condemned as unfit for human habitation.
